Documentary Project

SHARE YOUR EXPERIENCE

WHAT: A study documenting peoples experiences with criminal record discrimination in the job market.

WHY: To deepen understanding of when and how discrimination takes place and reveal the shortcomings of existing legal protections.

HOW: If you have been denied a job, had an offer revoked, been kept from a promotion, stopped from pursuing a career, or otherwise faced an employment barrier because of a conviction, please get in touch. Interviews will take place via Zoom, phone, or in person, and are private and confidential. Participants will be compensated for their time.
